

16-1. Micro Process Development

Development and validation of advanced processes using the platforms available in the Demo Center for microelectronics applications, including deposition, activation, interconnection and material handling.

Includes:

- Process definition
- Selection of suitable technology
- Initial feasibility tests
- Parameter tuning